White Privilege:

The Other Side of Racial Inequality

White Privilege:
The Other Side of Racial Inequality

Thursday, November 16
7:30 - 8:45 p.m.

Olympia Timberland Library

for adults

Conversations about racial inequality usually focus on the disadvantages faced by people of color in American society. But there is another side to this inequality: privilege—the advantages that white people experience because of their race.

Pacific Lutheran University Sociology professor, Teresa Ciabattari leads an interactive conversation that explores what white privilege is, discusses a variety of examples of privilege for individuals and institutions, and provides tools for learning how to address it. Participants will gain knowledge and resources to foster inclusion and racial justice in their own communities.

This program is co-sponsored by Humanities Washington and the Friends of the Olympia Timberland Library. The library will be closed during the program. No other library services will be available.

All Timberland Programs are free and open to the public. The Olympia Timberland Library is located at 313 8th Ave SE. For more information, contact the library at (360) 352-0595 or visit TRL.org.

Timberland Regional Library provides for the information, reading and lifelong learning needs of the Grays Harbor, Lewis, Mason, Pacific and Thurston county public at 27 community public libraries and six library service partner locations. The library system is funded mainly by local property taxes. Anyone needing special accommodations to participate in a library's programs may contact the library one week in advance.
